

How far back can I start watching a live show?

Last Modified on 03/11/2017 11:19 am EST

When you start watching a show, your SECV media player will start storing it in temporary memory called a buffer. The amount of temporary memory varies, but it is never less than 30 minutes for standard definition or 10 minutes for HDTV.
