

What determines what new channels are added to lineups?

Last Modified on 11/27/2024 12:53 pm EST

Our programming department continuously evaluates new content and new channels. Factors taken into consideration include: customer interest, contractual obligations, and cost of adding the channel which includes programmers fees. We want to hear from you. If there is a channel you would like to see added to your Channel lineup, please submit your request on our Channel Request page.
