

What if I need more data usage above what my data plan offers each month?

If you feel that your Internet data usage will continue to exceed your monthly data plan, we recommend that you consider a SECV Internet package that more closely matches your use of the service. You should review your monthly usage and determine if a different package of Internet service would be better suited for you. You will also benefit from the faster speeds that come with your upgraded SECV Internet package. You can monitor you usage with SECV's usage meter.
